

Bil. Alvernaz

Bil. Alvernaz worked with two administrative support team members to establish the Administrative Community of Excellence (ACE) website. He participated in determining how the content should be displayed on the web site and provided guidance to the team in terms of how to best enact their vision of a site that fostered cross training/learning, site information, company information, and technical/functional support. He helped to prioritize the various initiatives related to the site development, and he also was an encouraging leader for the admin team when the going got tough on the effort. This grassroots project will drive better performance amongst the administrative community across Aerojet and will be an invaluable resource for admins once the Rocketdyne acquisition is complete.

Bil., Thank you for your contributions to the development of the ACE website.
